Testimony to House Judiciary Committee
On all five bills concerning the Judicial Selection Process
Robert Vancrum, Legislative Policy and Government Affairs Consultant
On behalf of The Greater Kansas City Chamber Of Commerce

January 22, 2013

Chairman Kinzer and Other Honorable Representatives:

This written testimony is given on behalf of The Greater Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, an organization with over 2,500 members, 40% in Kansas. Our public policy agenda has for many years contained a standing position supporting the current merit based or non-partisan system of selecting judges in Kansas. Our members believe the current system has served the business community well and there is no sufficient reason to change the system. The current constitutional article was adopted in 1958 after public outcry when a defeated governor resigned early and had himself appointed to the Supreme Court.

Although this means we cannot support the specific amendment proposed in SCR 1601, and certainly do not support direct election of appellate judges, the KC Chamber supports restructuring the existing nonpartisan nominating commission. We agree it could be changed to expand its size, allow more public members (and non-attorneys), and to permit more nominations by the Governor and some by other elected officials, for instance.

The KC Chamber also believes the legislature needs to give considerable thought before passing constitutional amendments and other legislation binding on future legislatures. Kansas has alternated between Republican and Democratic governors for at least the last 40 years. With that history it’s not surprising that some nominees for cabinet positions have been rejected by the Senate – some even for being unqualified or having conflicts of interest. Most appointments are not time sensitive but in the case of the Supreme Court with seven members, protracted disagreement over appointments could leave the Court without a majority capable of deciding some critical cases. In short, even the delay possible under this legislation could be an issue someday.
Thank you for the opportunity to express our concerns about changes in the judicial selection process.