

KP&F Definitions, Eligibility for Benefits; Senate Sub. for HB 2101

Senate Sub. for HB 2101 defines “police,” “policeman,” and “policemen,” as those terms are used in the statutes relating to the Kansas Police and Firemen’s (KP&F) Retirement System, to mean individuals who have been certified by the Kansas Law Enforcement Training Center and assigned to a police department, whose duties include engagement in the enforcement of law, who have been designated by their employer as a police officer, and for whom contributions have been made to the KP&F Retirement System. Individuals covered by the bill are not to be denied benefits because of a temporary or full-time assignment to a jail, adult detention center, or other correctional facility. The bill applies retroactively to July 1, 1999.
