

At one of these meetings it was asked, "how can we get people to trust DCF?" or something to that effect.

I've heard it said that the definition of INTEGRITY is to do the right thing - EVEN IF NO ONE IS WATCHING. In your guys cases - even, one is always watching to see if you're doing the right thing. It rarely happens.

You need to do the right thing - without prompting... and it should be done out loud, to show folks that you're capable.

I think in peoples personal lives, that most of us try to amend a wrong that we do to someone else. The gov't should be no different, probably more so to show good faith.

We've been up here 3x. We've proved everything we said, (and there's much more) We've brought "receipts." Most of you guys have even acknowledged the wrongdoings of St. Francis. We've brought you the falsified documents. We've brought you proof that they lied - throughout his files and up here to you guys. We've proved that they harassed us. We are the victims and they came after us. But the most important part is we proved that had they done the right thing, the honest thing, my son would still be here.

What they did was the equivalent of a fireman walking past a screaming drowning person and watching him die, then later saying, "Oh, I just thought they were splashing."

The lengths that have been taken to cover this up, by the agency, by the government is appalling.

A special needs child needed help and your professionals didn't do their job which resulted in my child's death.

And instead of taking accountability, we, the victims, are expected to come and ask you to do the right thing.

AGAIN, I'm asking you to do the right thing. And this, folks, is why people don't trust DCF. They know that an agency can come in and allow a child to die - multiple children, and nothing gets done.

The pain that my entire family has endured, I wish on no-one. The fight to get anything resembling justice, that dredges all of this up, I wish on no-one.

Our first meeting here, you guys came down on St. Francis. You chastised them for making this go unresolved for 5 yrs. and now here we are and it's starting to feel very familiar again.

DO THE RIGHT THING - OUT LOUD!
Please, it's a place to start.
